We've forever been in the thrall of monster stories. Our oldest monster story is from over 4,000 years ago in Mesopotamia, of Gilgamesh battling the monsters on Cedar Mountain. Now our everyday is filled with stories of zombies, medical accidents, and our monstrous selves. Cinema is the king of monster tales. Psychology works to understand our monstrous narratives. Our second double-sided issue presents and explores our fascination with monsters inside and out, foreign and domestic, in stories of all forms. It’s bigger than we planned. More than we can contain. A monster in itself.

FEATURED:
Bennett Sims
Dorothy Tse
Kastalia Medrano
Blake Butler
Theodora Goss
Brandon Downing
Wayne White

ORDER YOUR COPY TODAY:
$10 print / $5 digital

OR GET A SUBSCRIPTION:
$16 print until November 1, 2014

BE A PART OF FUTURE ISSUES
Submissions accepted via Submittable

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SPRING 2015 (ISSUE 3)</th>
<th>FALL 2015 (ISSUE 4)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Migration</td>
<td>Un/Natural World</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

STORY
441 Country Club Rd.
York, PA 17403
717-815-2063

STORYMAGAZINE.ORG