

South 85 is open until April 15 for submissions of poetry and short prose to be considered for our summer 2023 issue.

We consider all quality work and are especially interested in writing that demonstrates a strong voice and sense of place.

Full guidelines and a link to our Submittable page are available on our website at south85journal.com

Send your best work today!