

Opens June 5
Closes August 15

The Aggrey Prize for Poetry seeks to amplify the myriad experiences, struggles, triumphs, and aspirations of the diverse narratives by writers who identify as Black, Indigenous, or Person of color and who have published no more than one book in any genre.

Sublingua Prize for Poetry is dedicated to the discovery of an exceptional debut poetry collection by a female-identifying writer.

the Tabbikha Prize for Poetry seeks to honor those whose original work focuses on any aspect of life within the S.W.A.N.A diasporic experience and who have published no more than one book in any genre.

1st & 2nd

BOOK PRIZES

WE ENCOURAGE GENRE-BREAKING/HYBRID, SPECULATIVE, AND EXPERIMENTAL WORK THAT REFLECTS ON INTERSECTIONAL PERSPECTIVES EXPLORING THE COMPLEXITIES OF LIVED EXPERIENCES. THE INCLUSION OF OTHER LANGUAGES, CODE-SWITCHING, AND MESHING IS VERY MUCH WELCOME.

Winner receives publication with Inverted Syntax Press (Bookmobile for printing and Itasca Books for distribution) | 25 author copies | $500 prize money | 5%-10% standard royalties on net receipts | Assistance in planning a reading launch with other writers within the winner's state and elsewhere when possible | Inverted Syntax-hosted online reading launch | Week-long self-guided writing retreat to a historic Victorian home in Leadville, CO, with up to four members of your writing community | We may also offer a runner-up publication in addition to the winning manuscript | Writers can be of any citizenship but must be residing within the USA to receive award | $20 submission fee | $10 waiver offered upon request

06/05-08/15

www.invertedsyntax.com